No Compromise On Seniority Rights Say Rail Executives

Plan To Break Strike Rather Than Submit To Plan Which Would Deprive New Men Rights.

SITUATION IS TENSE

New York, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Strengthening the non-union forces railroad executives planned today to break the strike of 400,000 shopmen. The executives of one hundred and forty-eight railroads are committed to a policy of "no compromise" on the subject of seniority rights of employees following the refusal of the American Association of Railway Executives yesterday to accept President Harding's plan for a settlement of the strike. Orders notifying employees who refused to strike and employees added to their payrolls since the strike began that there would be no impairment of their seniority were posted in railroad shops all over the country today.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—President Harding, having received advice from Chicago that the striking shopmen will accept his rail peace proposal is preparing to place full responsibility on the rail executives for continuation of the strike and its paralyzing effect upon industry. The letter from the shopmen's leaders asking that seniority rights be respected has been received by the President and he is expected to make a sharp reply to the executives. At the same time the President will issue a warning that he will use unchallenged powers which he will not hesitate to use if necessary. The calm, conciliatory attitude of Harding will be changed to the Rooseveltian "big stick" policy. With unusual patience he sought without success to bring the warring factions in both the mine and rail strikes together.

New York, August 2.—Rail executives of the nation yesterday firmly rejected the program advanced by the Harding administration for settlement for the shopmen's strike.

Willing to accept conditionally two suggestions put forth—that both sides abide by rail decisions of the Labor Board and to forego lawsuits springing out of the strike—the heads of 148 roads declared that it was impossible to reinstate strikers with unimpaired seniority rights.

After being told by Robert Lovet, of the Union Pacific, that there was no moral or practical reason for budging from their position, the executives disbanded, caught the first train for home.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, INVENTOR OF THE TELEPHONE, DIED EARLY TODAY

Nova Scotia, Aug. 2.—Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, died here today at the age of seventy-five.

Alexander Graham Bell was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, March 23, 1847. He was graduated from several European universities and came to Canada in 1870, leaving there and settling in Boston. He concentrated on his work on the telephone while a professor of physiology at the Boston University and received a patent for the telephone in 1876. Bell also invented a phonograph in conjunction with C. A. Bell and Sumner Tainter. The invention of the photo-phone, induction balance and telephone probe for the detection of bullets in the human body were also credited to him.

Boland, Former Envoy Of Irish Republic, Dies Of Wounds Received

Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 2.—Harry Boland, former envoy of the Irish Republic to the United States and secretary to Eamon De Valera, died early today from wounds received when he resisted arrest by the Free State troops. Boland, one of the leaders of the Irish Republic was shot Monday in a hotel at Skerries, a fishing village north of here. When called upon to surrender he refused and started to fight his captors.

ASSYRIAN HIGH SOCIETY ALL AGOG OVER DUBOIS WAY

Assyrian high society in the City of DuBois is all agog today over a suit for slander begun in the Clearfield County Courts by Mrs. Adel Anter, of Cleveland, Ohio, against Noral Bojald, in which the damages are set at the tidy sum of $10,000.

The statement filed in Prothonotary Ralston's office by Attorney James A. Gleason, who represents the plaintiff recites that the fair plaintiff on the occasion of a recent visit to the home of her mother, Mrs. Leo Maloof in DuBois was verbally assailed by the defendant, who by certain false and slanderous statements "did contrive and maliciously intend to deprive the plaintiff of her good name, fame and esteem."

The slanderous statements were made on July 27, 1922 and the case will be tried at September term of Court.

POISONED PIES KILL SIX IN NEW YORK RESTAURANT; 100 ILL; BAKER IS HELD

New York, N. Y., Aug. 1.—With the sixth death reported today from the eating of huckleberry pie in the restaurant of the Shelbourne Restaurant and Baking Company of 1127 Broadway, Charles Abramson, aged 30, a baker, discharged from the restaurant Saturday, was arrested on suspicion of homicide, and later held as a material witness.

The arrest was made as the result of an investigation made by District Attorney Banton, which definitely established that the pie contained arsenic.

Forty are still seriously ill from the poison pie and are at hospitals, to which they were rushed by all available ambulances in Manhattan yesterday.

Two Girls Among Dead
The dead include four men and two women. More than 100 persons ate the fatal pastry.

The discovery that arsenic was in the pie was reported today to the District Attorney by Samuel Drexler, the proprietor. He became ill from tasting the pies to assure patrons they "didn't know what they were talking about" when they complained that something was wrong.

His own illness and the repeated visits of clanging ambulances to the neighborhood caused him to have the

SENATOR CROW, OF UNIONTOWN, DIES AT CHALK HILL

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 2.—United States Senator William E. Crow died at his summer home, Chalk Hill, today after a long illness. Death came shortly before noon. Senator Crow had been ill since December with pernicious anaemia and after several months treatment in a Pittsburgh hospital he was brought to Chalk Hill in the hope that the mountain air would cure him. Crow was appointed to the United States Senate in September last, following the death of Senator Knox.

At the bedside were the immediate members of the Senator's family and Public Service Commissioner Ray Shelby, his law partner. For several hours Senator Crow was unconscious and he passed away peacefully.

Fayette's Biggest Farmer
William E. Crow was born March 10th, 1870. His parents were Joe Crow and Elizabeth McCombs. He rose from a farmer boy to Senator with the assistance of teaching, journalism, law and politics as stepping stones.

When he was appointed Senator, Crow's first utterance was that "life's ambition was reached. Crow entered politics in 1895 when he was chosen Chairman of the Republican County Committee. He was later elected to the State Senate and became President of the Senate in 1907 to continue as President of that body until his appointment as United States Senator. In 1909 he was chosen as Chairman of the Republican State Committee. He was known as Fayette County's biggest farmer owning thousands of acres of land. He also was interested in several coal mining operations.

Senator Crow's death marks the passing away of three United States Senators from Fayette County.

ALTOONA BASEBALL TEAM WILL PLAY HERE TOMORROW

The Altoona P. R. R. base ball team will meet the local American Legion ball team at the Driving Park grounds Thursday afternoon. This will likely be the last game of the season, as the fans do not seem to appreciate the efforts of the Legion boys are making to give Clearfield some good baseball.

None of the games have been a paying investment and Manager Bell hopes crowd enough will turn out to at least pay the guarantee.

The local team has been greatly strengthened and a real classy game of ball is looked for.

DOCTOR DIES WRITING THOUGHTS OF SUICIDE FEELINGS ON TYPEWRITER

Milwaukee, Aug. 1.—Albert J. Herschman, doctor, scholar, linguist, philosopher, a confessed atheist and disbeliever in the hereafter, who declared Jesus Christ was the greatest man the world ever saw, put out his own life last night as he sat quietly in his office pounding the keys of his typewriter and smoking an expensive Havana cigar.

Dr. Herschman was formerly Austrian consular agent here and widely known, particularly in the slum districts, where his work as a physician mostly gratuitous broke his health and forced him to retire.

Filled with the idea that a man of his intellectual attainments, should die calmly and in a dignified manner, Dr. Herschman composed himself for the end, lighted his cigar, took twelve and a half grains of morphine and proceeded to click off his last thoughts on his typewriter.

Thoughts Timed by Paragraphs
His thoughts were timed by paragraphs, intervals showing his meditation lasted over a period of 3 hours. He was under no mental suspense, he indicated, the drug merely blurring his thoughts and giving him a sense of supreme quietude. His only fear was he should be found before the opiate extinguished his life. He was going into the dark, he believed, for he had often remarked to his friends:

"Don't talk to me of life after death. There is none. We simply die and that's all."

The note written by Dr. Herschman follows:

"6:45 P. M.—Prominent men comment in the newspapers as to what they would do on the last day of their lives, if they knew they were about to pass away. All the statements I have read thus far seem bunk. Personally I have been kept so busy trying to straighten out matters and out looking over anything that no time is left for petty thoughts. Besides many clients interrupted me, keeping me from meditation. I nevertheless wound all up, and, at 5:40 P. M. took twelve and one half grains of morphine, which will be a sufficient quantity, but which works slowly. Now I feel somewhat drowsy, but far away from eternal sleep. I intend to follow the morphia up by a draught of the deadliest of poisons but am putting it off until the morphia effects will be more marked and my extreme reluctance to swallow the nasty fluid is overcome."

Scoffs at Himself for Waiting
"Is it not foolish for a man determined to die to wait rather than take of an unpleasant drink? Two seconds would finish it all right away, still I am musing and add more time."

CLEARFIELD COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY, ORGANIZED RECENTLY, TO TAKE OVER FIGHT AGAINST PLAGUE

Superintendent Trostle Heads New Body Which Will Further Work So Well Taken Care Of By Branch Of The Woman's Club Heretofore

A WORK OF BENEFIT TO EVERYBODY

Tuberculosis is preventable. Tuberculosis is not incurable as many suppose.

Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons, attacking the strong as well as the weak.

It is a public problem that must be met by the public. The death rate has been materially reduced in Clearfield County through the use of funds acquired by the sale of the so-called Anti-Tuberculosis Seals at Christmas time and the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis Committee of the Woman's Club of Clearfield and the organization that efficient and hard working committee built up throughout the county.

However, it is not the function of the Women's Club to carry on this work indefinitely, and it never was the purpose that they should do so, they undertaking the task only because of the absence of any other agency. The time has come when it is a burden to that organization, and while they were willing to go on with it, it would not be fair to expect it of them. Every man, woman and child in the county, all of whom are enjoying the protection and health that comes to them by the work of the committee, should have a share in the work. In order that an agency whose sole purpose will be the eradication of this disease could take over the work of county wide meeting of men and women from every district in the county, except DuBois, was called, and held here last Wednesday at the Jordan Hotel.

There was a fine attendance, evidencing the interest of the people in this problem and a permanent organization was formed. It will be known as the Clearfield County Tuberculosis Society. The president will be Mr. W. P. Trostle, County Superintendent of Schools, who in his annual visitation to the public schools, will be in a position to carry the message of health for all to at least twenty thousand children each year. The Vice President will be Dr. J. Paul Frantz who has had charge of the anti-tuberculosis clinic here and is in touch with conditions. A competent executive committee was named, as reference to the minutes below will show, which will be headed by Mrs. Richard Gilbert of Clearfield, whose work in the interest of public health, civic affairs and general community welfare is too well shown to need any other reference.

The Progress asks the hearty cooperation of every citizen of the county to this most laudable work. The officers have a task before them. Let none of us withhold our assistance in any way.

—The Minutes—

July 26th, 1922. A general meeting held at Jordan's Hotel, Clearfield, Pa. for the purpose of affecting a Clearfield County Tuberculosis Society. A luncheon was served, following which the meeting convened with Dr. J. Paul Frantz, presiding. Miss Stella E. Ainstead was asked to act as secretary.

Dr. Frantz was asked to explain briefly the purpose of the meeting and introduced Mr. Arthur M. Dewees, Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society. Mr. Dewees explained the organization of the National Tuberculosis Association the State Tuberculosis Society and their affiliated organizations. The Pennsylvania Society was organized thirty years ago and is the oldest Tuberculosis Organization in the United States not excepting the national. Mr. Dewees spoke in a general way of the scope and value of the educational health work and emphasized

ACCIDENT COSTS MR. MURTA FLOOD LEG BELOW KNEE

Murta Flood, one of Girard township's best known residents, had one of his legs amputated below the knee at the Clearfield Hospital this morning. Two weeks ago Mr. Flood was tearing down a scaffolding at the Miller store at Surveyor Run when a part of the scaffold gave way and he was thrown to the ground a distance of about seven feet. A falling plank struck him on the ankle badly crushing the leg and ankle bones, causing compound fracture.

Mr. Flood was brought to the Clearfield Hospital where every effort was made to save the injured leg, but it was unavailing and amputation had to be made.

The patient rallied following the operation and his condition is reported as being highly satisfactory.

Quartet Chosen In Contest By Czar

The Russian Cathedral Quartet, which will appear at the Chautauqua, is recognized as one of the finest in both Europe and America. They are musicians of high standing who have sung from early boyhood in the famous Cathedrals of Russia under the personal patronage of the former Czar.

These four singers were selected by Czar Nicholas to come to America to interpret Russian folk songs and church music. They were also selected to sing at the Russian Cathedral in New York where a quartet was needed which should embrace the highest and lowest voices, conditions made necessary by the fact that the Cathedral has no organ, and accordingly required long range voices to give substance and variety to its music.

In addition to the local Russian population the quartet has been known only to music lovers who made pilgrimages to the Russian Cathedral to hear them, as they were permitted by the Russian Government to give but one concert a year in this country, but now that the reign of the Czar is ended the public may hear them.

Some time ago they sang in Washington, D. C., and received the high compliment of being personally invited by the President to visit the White House.

Their programs are made up entirely of Russian folk songs and church music, which is of a character that has for years challenged the admiration of the musical world.

C. B. C. PRESIDENT, IN INTERVIEW, GIVES VIEW ON SITUATION

Mr. F. E. Herriman, of New York, President of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, is in this territory on his annual inspection trip. In a brief interview he expressed himself as both astonished and depressed conditions as he finds them, in comparison with those obtaining a year ago. "At that time," he said, "our collieries were working full time; now we seem to be the victim of a tendency on the part of labor to ignore the right of the operator to continue to work his mine pending an agreement of wages and conditions of work arrived at across the bargain table. The Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, a subsidiary of the New York Central Railroad during the last coal year, produced nearly 2,000,000 (two millions) tons of coal, all of which went to that great system for locomotive fuel. In a sense, therefore, we can be termed a public utility. We have always furnished steady work, not only in good times but during periods of depression; and that in spite of the fact that we would frequently have been good business policy to shut down the mines and purchase outside coal at a lower price. Notwithstanding our large investment in coal properties, we have generously aided churches, hospitals, schools, and other welfare movements; we have ever been mindful and concerned about the comfort and well-being of our employees; and during this unhappy period of idleness they have been permitted to occupy, undisturbed, their comfortable homes. And to what end? What does our Corporation get in return? Surely common fairness should compel a recognition of the fact that a square deal must be reciprocal to be of value; and all we get in this instance is a staked deck and no chance to cut. And what surprises me most of all, as I drive through the fine mining towns of Indiana County, is the general apathy displayed—not only on the part of the deluded miners, but on the part of the merchants who depend upon mine labor for the bulk of their trade. They seem to be oblivious of, or it may be indifferent to the fact that millions of dollars have been lost during the past four months by operators, miners, merchants and the general public; not a move on the part of anybody concerned in an effort to bring home to mine labor the great loss sustained—a loss that cannot be made up in several decades no matter what wage rate is ultimately agreed upon. This Corporation has stood ready since April 1st to meet its employees in a frank discussion of the issues involved; and while the rank and file might have proved receptive, they are unfortunately limited by leaders whose selfish motives are only too apparent to the thinking public."

Mr. Herriman proposes to spend the week in Indiana and is hopeful that the steps he may be able to take will result in a general resumption of work at all of his collieries.

Unfortunately True.

It would be better, perhaps, if a man could recognize his mental infirmities as readily as he recognizes a physical infirmity, but he can't.

WARREN KELCHNER, CHAUTAUQUA REPRESENTATIVE ARRIVED YESTERDAY

Warren H. Kelchner, advance representative of the Chautauqua arrived in town last night. He will assist the local people in making this the most successful Chautauqua that has ever been held in Clearfield.

The Chautauqua has been unusually successful this year—in fact the best yet. There is something on the program for every one—big, little, old and young.

Mr. Kelchner wishes to meet everyone. Let everyone go at least halfway to meet him.

GIVES LIFE SAVING OTHERS

W. C. Gentry Escaped Injury in World War, Once Rescued Texas Flood Victims.

After serving with the colors in the infantry field artillery, motor transport corps and the navy, W. C. Gentry returned from the World War to his home at Fort Worth, Tex., without having been injured during the flood at Fort Worth in April, 1922 the American Legion called upon its members to do rescue work. Young Gentry was one of the first to present himself at the Legion office.

During the first few hours he was in the flood district Gentry rescued six persons. While swimming toward the levee after carrying a woman to safety he became entangled in a barbed wire fence which had come to the surface of the water. He called to a companion for help but the companion was too nearly exhausted to save him. The surging waters from which he had saved others soon engulfed him.

Mayor T. R. Cockrell of Fort Worth and his fellow citizens to erect a fitting memorial to the young man who had unselfishly given his life for his fellow men.

WHEN ONLY FOUR HOURS OLD

Miss Rosalie Carol Larson of Worthington, Minn., Probably Youngest Auxiliary Member

Fortunately there are no age requirements for membership in the American Legion Auxiliary. Number of good mothers were among the charter members of the organization in Minnesota. On the other hand, there are several young women who may say that they have been engaged to the Auxiliary all their lives. Little Rosalie Carol Larson of Worthington, Minn., was admitted to membership when she was exactly four hours old. So she didn't apply for the honor. It was just conferred upon her. Rosalie's father, Warner Larson, served with the Twenty-ninth Division and her mother received her diploma as a graduate nurse after volunteering for service with the American Red Cross.

THE FLOWERS OF THE LEGION

American Daisy and French Poppy
Official Posies of Both Branches
of the Organization.

There has been some confusion in the minds of Americans in general as to the status of the daisy and the poppy in connection with the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary. The daisy is the Legion's official flower. The poppy is the Auxiliary's memorial flower. The misunderstanding arose in the first place because in its early days the Legion did adopt the poppy of France as its flower. But at its Kansas City convention the American Legion adopted the daisy as its official flower on the grounds that the daisy is an American flower and the poppy of Flanders is available for use only in artificial form.

The Legion Auxiliary has taken advantage of the fact that the poppy is not available as a real flower to buy artificial flowers made by disabled soldiers in hospitals. The Massachusetts Legion and Auxiliary netted something over $10,000 from the sale of artificial poppies last winter. This money was used to better the conditions of sick and needy veterans of the World War.

The Legion is making every effort to interest the children of America in the cultivation of flowers by appealing to their patriotism and to their natural affection for such a flower as the American Legion's American Daisy.

Carrying On With the American Legion
Former service men in Pennsylvania received $10,000 in claims from the government in one month through the efforts of the Pennsylvania American Legion.

A giant new bridge will span the historic Charles River at Boston, Mass., serving as a memorial to the Massachusetts dead who lost their lives in the World War.

Austrian heroes of the World War were honored on Austria day when religious services, soldiers' reunions and public meetings were held throughout the commonwealth.

A freak pretending to be half baboon and half woman, giving America as her home and declaring that there are no more like her in this country, attracted considerable attention in a (costly) street carnival until American Legion members had the act suppressed.

OBSERVATIONS

All play and no work mines no coal.

Perhaps a broader view will be taken of the bloomer skirt.

If you miss your train these days you have a good alibi.

"Civilization is on trial," says a speaker. Then it must be that they refused to accept its plea of pithy.

The originator of the term "berry" for the dollar just possibly got the suggestion from the price of a quart of berries.

WHAT'S THE TRUTH ABOUT PROHIBITION?

Those who are most agitated and most exclamatory about the "failure" of prohibition have no time to see the further fact that in the time since it has been declared in operation prohibition has had a most unfavorable period of testing. Un-usual crime conditions that followed the war and a lax en-forcement of law, matched only by a general disregard for law, have had no proper relation with prohibition; yet they have been laid at the door of prohibition. At times there has been grossly inadequate machinery for enforcement of the prohibition law; and this has been taken as the basis for frequent declarations that the law cannot be enforced.

To those willing to distinguish the truth from gesture and bald assertion, the outlook for prohibition is bright. The com-mon sense of the mass of the people is not likely to permit of any confusion on the issue. It will take time to make pro-hibition a complete success; time for a change in habits; time for law enforcement; time for a wider respect for law and an increased willingness to admit the benefits that the absence of liquor involves.—Kansas City Star.

LOYALTY RECOGNIZED

The Altoona Tribune has been inter-eted in recent gossip concerning the question of seniority as it affects old employees of the Pennsylvania system and new ones who have assisted in pre-venting any crisis in railroad matters during recent weeks. It has felt that this is a question for the corporation and its employees and that impression is borne out by the following state-ment which was made public yester-day:

"To the employees of the Penn-sylvania system, the old men who have remained loyal, and to the new men who have entered our service, and who jointly have enabled the railroad and its offi-cers to perform its public duties in a full and efficient manner. "I give you my personal assur-ance that my obligation to you under our agreement will be fully carried out.

"These agreements, fully protect the old and new men in their sen-i-ority, and the terms of the ag-reement cannot be changed ex-cept by mutual consent.

W. W. ATTERBURY,
Vice President in Charge of Operation

No doubt some of the men who went out for the purpose of crippling the Pennsylvania railroad company did so reluctantly and with heavy hearts. They simply didn't have the stamina to stand out against the persuasions of those who tempted them to their undoing or they failed to possess the courage necessary for them to stand the onslaughts poured upon the heads of the devoted men who remained loyal to their families, their work, and their employer. At the same time they

It is not in accordance with the prin-ciples of justice to expect a corpora-tion like the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to fail in its promise to the employees who remained at their post in spite of every effort to persuade them to join the strikers. Neither a corporation nor an individual would knowingly reward treason and punish fidelity. The organization of a person who would do a trick of that sort would soon be without employees. Faithful workers who saw themselves set to one side at the behest of an organization would encourage treason to the public welfare would feel out-raged and betrayed. And in the event of another crisis they would have no inducement to remain loyal to the employer or the public welfare.

The statement by General Atter-bury is brief but entirely to the point. So far as the Pennsylvania Railroad company is concerned, there will be no faltering in the purpose to stand by the rights of faithful em-ployees. This attitude is the only one open to an honest and grateful em-ployer. To discipline the faithless ones and reward those who resort to every expedient to plunge the corporation and the public whom it serves so splendidly into endless con-fusion would be an act of supreme folly. It would likewise leave a very bad taste in the mouths of all lovers of fair play. It is, naturally enough, absolutely unthinkable, and that is General Atterbury's attitude as well as of the organization for which he speaks.—Altoona Tribune.

Necessity, indeed!
Necessity is the mother of invention. Hence the marvelous pieces of fiction from late homecoming husbands.

POLAND SEEKS LEGION PLAN

Government Asks American Body for Details in Matter of Employment for War Victims.

One of the highest emplacements ever given to the peacetime efforts of an organization was paid the American Legion when the Polish government asked that the Legion explain its plan used in the successful campaign for unemployed former service men in the United States in order that just such a system might be set on foot in Poland.

The Legion furnished a detailed outline of the scheme used in this country, and has received a letter of thanks from T. Hojnik, commercial department manager of the consulate general.

More than 100,000 ex-soldiers were given at least temporary employment during the first week of the Legion's drive and it is estimated that now more than 500,000 men are in permanent positions, largely through the efforts of the American Legion.

Ex-Tommies Cheer the Legion. Ex-Tommies who attended the first annual conference of the British Legion in London recently, rose en masse and cheered H. Nelson Jackson, national vice commander of the American Legion, when he read the greetings of Commander Harford MacNider and the entire American Legion to these "buddies" in the mother country. The message of good will and comradeship was received for the British Legion by Field Marshal Earl Haig.

Many "Bummed" to Convention. Because of the financial depression and lack of government compensation, many penniless disabled veterans of the World War walked and rode in box cars to San Francisco to attend the second annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, according to Raymond Creelman and Robert M. Smyth, members of the national staff.

"Dedicated to the Memory of Frederic W. Look for the Atlantic tank in front of good garages and oil stations.

Two "medium" oils of exactly the same shade, density or flow may develop vastly different characters under the operating conditions of the motor—depending on what they contain and how they are refined.

Ask definitely for ATLANTIC MEDIUM and you'll get a motor oil that holds its body as permanently as it is scientifically possible to make it—a balanced lubricant that contains only the finest heat-resisting hydrocarbons the crude oil affords.

Atlantic Medium resists the thinning influence of the motor's terrific heat—which is far greater than the warmest summer day's temperature. It flows freely to the closest fitting bearing surfaces yet effectually seals the pistons.

Fifty-five years of refining experience and twenty-five years of special study of automotive lubrication assure in Atlantic Medium a correctness and degree of refinement that mean dependable performance at all times.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Now that the coal strike is just entering its fourth month it might not be out of place to set before our readers the loss in wages to the miners for the first three months of the struggle, as calculated by the State Bureau of Labor and Industry when this Bureau was "taking account of stock" for the first six months of 1922, entering upon the month just closed which should add its pro rata figures to the enormous total given herewith:—

The expiration on April 1, 1922, of the agreement entered into in 1920 by the mine operators and the United Mine Workers of America and the failure of the representatives of the operators and of the miners to reach a satisfactory working agreement has caused the present suspension of work by the anthracite and bituminous coal miners of the United States.

In Pennsylvania the loss in time and money as a result of this suspension of work is as follows:

There are 322,286 men involved with an approximate loss of $113,789,115.00 in wages for April, May and June. There were 76½ working days during April, May and June and with the total loss being $113,789,115.00, it means that the daily loss in wages has been $1,014,030.00. According to figures received from the State Highway Department the cost of one mile of durable concrete highway is $45,000.00. At this rate the wages lost in the last three months in this suspension of work was sufficient to build 2,528 miles of good road.

The days lost are 22,757,823, that is, counting 365 days to the year, it would take one man 62,350 years to make up the time lost since the beginning of the suspension in April up to the end of June, or 1,000 men 62½ years to make up this same period of time.

In the anthracite region, 143,520 men lost approximately $59,590,800.00 in wages, and 19,118,160 days. The heaviest losses in the hard coal section are in Luzerne County where $19,332,815.00 were lost and in Lackawanna County where $12,577,200.00 were lost.

In the bituminous region approximately $63,198,315.00 were lost and 12,639,663 days were lost. Fayette County is the heaviest loser with $16,971,817.00 for the three months.

Clearfield County miners lost $4,776,072 of this amount during April, May and June, and $1,500,000 more for July.

Workmen's compensation, totaling $5,782,658, was incurred during the first six months of 1922 on accidents in Pennsylvania, it is shown in the six months' report of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. A marked decrease is shown in the number of fatalities since March due to suspension of coal operations. However, an increase in mine accidents has brought the fatalities to 140 for June compared with 104 for April. There were 66,257 accident reports received by the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. Of this number 855 were received by the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. Of this number 855 were fatal, 68 permanent disability, and 65,334 ordinary disability. During the first six months of this year there have been 76 leg losses, 55 arm losses, 148 hand losses, 97 foot losses and 305 eye losses.

For each eye lost through industrial accident $1,443 was awarded in compensation during the six months' period. A total of $140,365 was awarded for eye accidents. This amount corresponds to the amount awarded for June fatalities. In other words 305 eye losses cost as much in compensation as 133 lives. The award for eye losses was twice as great as the award for any other permanent injury.

UNIFORM LAWS THE AIM OF EMINENT MEN MEETING TODAY

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent) San Francisco, Aug. 2. (United Press)—With definite proposals for uniform state laws on incorporation, the status and protection of illegitimate children, aviation, compulsory attendance of non-resident witnesses in civil and criminal cases, and extradition, the thirty-second annual national conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws opened here today. It will remain in session a week.

Since its organization the Commissioners have formulated and submitted to the state, 26 uniform acts dealing with a great variety of subjects, chiefly commercial. These acts have been adopted by from four to twenty-eight states.

Today's meeting will be devoted to the details of organization, and the reports of committees. The Commissioner will be welcomed by Governor William D. Stephens. Hon. Henry Stockbridge, of Baltimore, Md., president of the Commissioners, will be in charge of the sessions, which will be strictly business, no social program having been arranged.

During the sessions the Commissioners will consider for submission to the states the ninth tentative draft of the Uniform Incorporation Act, the third tentative draft of the Uniform Declaratory Act and the second tentative drafts of uniform acts on the Status and Protection of Illegitimate Children, Mortgages, Aviation, Fiduciaries, and the first tentative drafts of uniform acts on Arbitration, Joint Parental Guardianship of Children, Securing the Compulsory Attendance of Non-Resident Witnesses in Civil and Criminal Cases, and for the Extradition of Persons Charged with Crime.

The latter act will be introduced by Bradner W. Lee and Gurney R. Newlin of Angeles, California's unofficial representatives. The state has no official members of the Conference.

The Conference is an official body, charged with the formulation of uniform laws for adoption by the states. It was organized 33 years ago at the suggestion of the American Bar Association, for the purpose of meeting difficulties arising out of the wide variance between the laws of several states particularly relating to business matters. The Commissioners are appointed by legislative or executive authority.

The officers are: President, Henry Stockbridge, Baltimore, Md.; Vice-President, John R. Hardin, Newark, N. J.; Treasurer, W. O. Hart, New Orleans, La.; Secretary, John B. Sabin, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; Executive Committee, Nathan William McChesney, chairman, Chicago; Eugene E. Massie, Richmond, Va.; George S. Young, Montpelier, Vermont; J. Hansell Merrill, Thomasville, Ga.; George E. Boers, New Haven, Conn.; and ex-officio, former President W. H. Staake, Philadelphia and A. T. Stovall, Okolona, Mass., chairman and scope and program.

THE PLAN

Briefly, we have arranged to form a Club for thrifty piano buyers. We will supply the members with one of these famous Pianos, Player-Pianos or Baby Grand Pianos from our regular stocks. We will allow each member three years to complete their payments and we will protect each member in case of sickness or non-employment. We will assume all risk in case of fire; we will fully guarantee every instrument ten years. We will allow you six months to exchange the instrument if you think you would prefer something else. Surely no better opportunity could ever be secured for an intelligent purchase of a piano or a player-piano.

LIMITED MEMBERSHIP

Naturally, because of the unusual advantages offered, we must limit the number of instruments to be sold under this Plan. No matter what your taste may be, this Club can supply your wants. Only Members will be allowed the advantages of these special prices and conditions. As soon as the allotted instruments are sold, the Club will close. This is an opportunity that thrifty buyers will gratefully remember.

THE PURPOSE

The purpose of this Club is to apply common sense—thrift and economy—to piano buying. Music is a necessity. It is as necessary for happiness as food, shelter and raiment. Every general in the World War knew this to be a fact. It was the singing soldiers who won the battles. It is the musical families who win life's battles.

An intelligent purchase of a musical instrument is a thrifty thing.

Music encourages thrift. The object of thrift is happiness, and where there is music there is happiness. Music stimulates family morale; it makes the home more attractive, there is less temptation to seek amusement and entertainment elsewhere. Thrifty, intelligent families have music in their homes. This opportunity is for thrifty families.

the function of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal, both as a means of education and a source of revenue.

Mrs. Richard Gilbert gave an outline of the work done the past year under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis Committee of the Women's Club. Material relief has been given, literature and printed matter has been distributed. Modern health crusade has been promoted to a certain extent. Transportation and outfits have been provided for tubercular patients going to sanatoria and to and from the dispensary, maintaining the dispensary and co-operated with other organizations in providing milk for three hundred or more children in the public or parochial schools.

Mrs. Charles Kurtz, president of the Women's Club gave a brief resume of the work in connection with the Women's Club from the time of its inception seven years ago, up until the present time. There is now a feeling that the work has grown to such an extent that it should be turned over to some organization, especially formed for the promotion of general health work throughout the county. Mrs. Kurtz assured us of the active interest and continued support of the Women's Club.

Dr. Quigley emphasized the value of milk lunch in the schools and the work with undernourished children, and pointed out that in addition to the physical improvement in the children themselves, there was a decided interest awakened in the community in this form of health work.

Dr. Frantz then appointed a nominating committee with instructions as to offices to be filled. The committee was composed of Mr. G. A. Stewart, Chairman, Mrs. Philip B. Reed, and Mr. J. A. Breth. This committee retired to another room to make their recommendations.

Mr. A. K. Wright added a few remarks relative to the work done here and told of a family which had inaugurated a nutrition class in their own home as an outgrowth of the milk lunch in school.

Miss Robinson, Field Secretary of The Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, spoke of some of her experiences with her work in Clearfield County within the last few weeks while she has been here in connection with the preliminary arrangements for the organization meeting. It was made clear that while the organization being formed today is to function as a County organization, there is one section of the county which prefers to work separately, at least for another year. The DuBois Committee has made all their plans for putting on a Christmas Seal Campaign and a Program for 1923 before Miss Robinson approached them on the subject of being a part of the County organization. Miss Robinson wished to make this clear in order that any question which might arise later could be explained satisfactorily and also suggested that it might be an inspiration to this county organization to become so effective that the DuBois Committee would consider it an honor and a privilege to become a part of it later. She also took this opportunity to thank the people of Clearfield for their courtesy and cooperation extended to her during her work here.

Mr. Thomas L. Wall, of Grampian, one of the County teachers, spoke of the crying need for health work in the rural schools, and suggested holding a series of health meetings in the rural communities, using the public schools as a center. He also expressed a wish that some arrangement might be made whereby talks could be given by some qualified person in the various schools throughout the county.

Rev. Father M. A. Ryan spoke briefly in praise of the work done in the parochial schools last term and expressed the deepest sympathy and interest in the work of this new organization. He pledged the aid of the St. Vincent de Paul Society when material relief is needed and assured us of their active co-operation in any constructive programme that may be outlined.

Mr. S. C. Reed, who represented the Grange spoke in approval of the extension of the health work throughout the county and volunteered assistance wherever possible. This was followed by a general discussion and questions and it was brought out by Mr. Dewees that it was a bigger thing and directly in keeping with the policy of the State and National organizations to confine the program of work to a strictly educational basis. While material is necessary it is not the function of a health organization to provide such relief except in the most isolated cases. The function of a health organization is to keep well people well and to eliminate disease. This can best be done by means of health education.

The nominating committee returned and presented their recommendations as follows:

President—W. P. Trestle, County Superintendent.

Vice President—Dr. J. Paul Frantz, Secretary—Miss Stella B. Ainstead, Treasurer—Jas. Mitchell, Sr.

Executive Committee:—

Mrs. Richard Gilbert, chairman.

Mr. A. K. Wright.

Rev. A. M. Ryan.

Mrs. Geo. Reed.

Mrs. Chas. T. Kurtz.

District Vice Presidents:—

Lawrence and Goshen Twp.—Mr. S. C. Reed, Clfd., R. D. 4.

Down River—Mr. Q. E. Beauseigneur, Leontes Mills.

Morris, Graham and Cooper Twp. Mrs. G. B. Kirk, Kylertown, Pa.

Bradford, Boggs Twp. and vicinity Mrs. G. B. Shively, Woodland, Pa.

Penn Twp. and Graham—Jacob Seurman, Grampian, Pa.

Burnside, Chest, Westover and Mahaffey—Mrs. J. F. Rowles, Mahaffey, Pa.

Osceola Territory—No selection.

Houtzdale Territory—No selection.

Ramey and Bigler Twp.—Miss Ethel M. Ramey, Ramey, Pa.

Coalport and Ironva—No selection.

It was the intention of the nominating committee that the President, or the Vice President in the absence of the President, be present at the Executive Committee's meetings as an ex-officio member, and that the District Vice Presidents be subordinate to the Executive Committee rather than to the President.

to my life, which in fact is already ended. The morphine has put me in a condition of absolute mental painlessness. I am not attempting to review my past life, and am not trying to look into the future as I believe death is the end and there is no hereafter.

"My thoughts are with my beloved wife, whose love and devotion have rendered me infinitely happy for many years, and with my two grandchildren who unconsciously brought sunshine to me.

"But although I deeply regret the grief my voluntary parting from life for a time must bring on my loved ones, all health and late reverses make my step desirable.

"7:17 P. M.—If I did not know I have taken sufficient poison to warrant results, I could not notice it from my condition. Aside from fluttering heart action, contracted pupils and moderate drowsiness I feel no effects. Still I cannot make up my mind to swallow the poison, and have lit a cigar waiting further increase of drowsiness, and hope to be seen able to coax myself into the inevitable."

"7:12 P. M.—I am here yet hesitating to take the poison. My thoughts are blurred from the morphine and a sensation of supreme quietude reigns in me. If it were not for my beloved wife, who has just phoned, I would go on waiting, but I am afraid of too long a day, because lapsing into unconsciousness might result in being saved by medical assistance. Ten more minutes and then the end with a draught.

"Curiously Watching Effects"

"I am in no manner kept in suspense, just pleasantly and curiously watching developments. Quicker than my only wish is that I had an additional handkerchief so I could dispose of the surplus perspiration, it being close and my skin clammy from the morphine effects.

Dr. A. J. H."

It is at this point the doctor is believed to have taken the poison. In the last few years he has maintained a foreign exchange and sold steamship tickets, and it was in this office he was found by a watchman and taken to Emergency Hospital about 9:30 P. M. but died on the way.

trains for their headquarters and indicated they would go ahead operating their roads, as at present.

The decision not to yield on the question of seniority was made known to the White House by telegraph after the railroads had listened to a twenty minute address from Secretary Hoover, who told them the administration held the seniority rights of minor importance in comparison with that of upholding the Railroad Labor Board decisions.

This action was taken in the face of a letter from the President to De Witt Cuyler, chairman of the executives, embodying the "terms of agreement" as I understood them, upon which the railway managers and craftsmen are to agree.

President Harding had closed his letter with these sentences:

"I need hardly say that I have reason to believe that these terms will be accepted by the workers. If there is good reason why the managers cannot accept, they will be obliged to open direct negotiations or assume full responsibility for the situation.

President A. H. Smith apparently stated the sentiment of the chiefs when in the midst of their discussion he threw upon the table a bundle of 400 telegrams from foremen and superintendents of the road, announcing they would have to resign if the seniority of the strikers was resumed.

Immediately others leaped to their feet and gave similar statement. Resignations would be wholesale if seniority rights were granted strikers.

"What we want the government to do is to let us alone; to let us settle this strike in our own way," declared Mr. Smith.

"Acceptance of the proposed result in complete demoralization of American transportation and the system of honorable co-operation."

Back To President

Washington, Aug. 2.—President Harding has the rail problem back on his hands as a result of the refusal of the executives to accept the settlement plan, so far as the seniority system is concerned.

There was no indication as what, if any move, the government planned to make.

It was considered probable the President would consider carefully the text of the executives' reply and that expected from the labor leader, before reaching a decision.

Attorney Gives Pledge on Seniority

W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, outlined his attitude on the seniority fight by a statement he issued last evening. It is as follows:

Oil City, Pa., August 1, 1922.

To the employees of the Pennsylvania System:—The old men who have remained loyal and to the new men who have entered our service, and who jointly have enabled our railroad and its officers to perform its public duty in a full and efficient manner:

I give you my personal assurance that my obligation to you under our agreement will be fully carried out. These agreements fully protect the old and new men in their seniority and the terms of agreement cannot be changed except by mutual consent.

SPRAY URGED FOR LATE POTATOES TO SAVE FROM BLIGHT

State College, Pa., Aug. 2.—That late blight is again threatening to destroy the Pennsylvania potato crop this year, particularly in north tier and mountainous counties, was the warning issued here today by Professor E. L. Nixon, extension plant pathologist of the Pennsylvania State College. Spraying is the only thing that will save the state crop in the opinion of the Penn State specialist.

Where the potato fields are being sprayed regular there will be little damage done by the blight, but areas where hit and miss methods are employed or where spraying is entirely lacking, the potato yield will suffer, says Professor Nixon, who has just returned from a trip into northern counties.

The attack will be usually severe in these sections where the farmers have had heavy drouth to contend with earlier in the season. Unless rigid spraying is observed in such districts, the harvest is likely to be a crop of small size tubers, having little commercial value. The fact that a field has escaped the blight so far holds no assurance that there will be none later on, according to Mr. Nixon. The safest practice is to spray regularly and thoroughly, for the late blight, once it appears in a field can inflict heavy injury and often complete destruction in a few days.

With spraying being practiced on twice the acreage as that of last year Professor Nixon expects to see the value of Bordeaux mixture very clearly demonstrated this summer. On sprayed fields it is possible the yield will run as high as 100 bushels more per acre than the yield from unsprayed fields. Growers who avail themselves of the advice to begin spraying immediately may yet control the ravages of late blight in their fields and insure themselves of a yield well above the average.

No Compromise On Seniority Rights Say Rail Executives

Plan To Break Strike Rather Than Submit To Plan Which Would Deprive New Men Rights.

SITUATION IS TENSE

New York, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Strengthening the non-union forces railroad executives planned today to break the strike of 400,000 shopmen. The executives of one hundred and forty-eight railroads are committed to a policy of "no compromise" on the subject of seniority rights of employees following the refusal of the American Association of Railway Executives yesterday to accept President Harding's plan for a settlement of the strike. Orders notifying employees who refused to strike and employees added to their payrolls since the strike began that there would be no impairment of their seniority were posted in railroad shops all over the country today....

Washington, D. C. Aug. 2.—President Harding, having received advice from Chicago that the striking shopmen will accept his rail peace proposal is preparing to place full responsibility on the rail executives for continuation of the strike and its paralyzing effect upon industry. The letter from the shopmen's leaders asking that seniority rights be respected has been received by the President and he is expected to make a sharp reply to the executives. At the same time the President will issue a warning that he has unchallenged powers which he will not hesitate to use if necessary. The calm, conciliatory attitude of Harding will be changed to the Rooseveltian "big stick" policy. With unusual patience he sought without success to bring the warring factions in both the mine and rail strikes together.

New York, August 2.—Rail executives of the nation yesterday firmly rejected the program advanced by the Harding administration for settlement for the shopmen's strike.

Willing to accept conditionally two suggestions put forth—that both sides abide by rail decisions of the Labor Board and to forego lawsuits springing out of the strike—the heads of 148 roads declared that it was impossible to reinstate strikers with unimpaired seniority rights.

After being told by Robert Lovet, of the Union Pacific, that there was no moral or practical reason for budging from their position, the executives disbanded, caught the first train for home.

A Singer and His Camera

Mr. Ernest Gamble, the distinguished basso, who is to appear on the Chautauqua program, in his student days in Europe was an enthusiastic devotee of the kodak. He secured many interesting pictures of European scenes, army reviews, royalty, etc. This was before the days when kodaks were so universal, and Mr. Gamble was in a large continental city, where a big demonstration was going on, in which the Czar of Russia, the Kaiser of Germany, several high officials and 30,000 soldiers were taking part. Mr. Gamble was anxious to secure a picture of the Czar and was maneuvering about the Czar's box to get a good view. Suddenly a soldier rushed up to Mr. Gamble with bayonet fixed and placed him under arrest. He was at once surrounded, the procession stopped, and for a time there was a great commotion. The soldiers thought he was an anarchist and that the peculiar looking box he had under his arm was a dynamite bomb. Mr. Gamble thought his time had come, and that he was about to be cast into prison. He had great difficulty in explaining, in pantomime, for the most part, that he was not a bomb thrower, and that the innocent looking box was only a kodak. It appears the Russians had never seen a kodak before and mistook it for a bomb. He was finally allowed to go, but he was not permitted to take a picture of the Emperor Nicholas.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, INVENTOR OF THE TELEPHONE, DIED EARLY TODAY

Nova Scotia, Aug. 2.—Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, died here today at the age of seventy-five. Alexander Graham Bell was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, March 23, 1847. He was graduated from several European universities and came to Canada in 1870, leaving there and settling in Boston. He concentrated on his work on the telephone while a professor of physiology at the Boston University and received a patent for the telephone in 1876. Bell also invented a phonograph in conjunction with C. A. Bell and Sumner Tainter. The invention of the photo-phone, induction balance and telephone probe for the detection of bullets in the human body were also credited to him.

Boland, one of the leaders of the Irish Republic was shot Monday in a hotel at Skerries, a fishing village north of here. When called upon to surrender he refused and started to fight his captors.

ASSYRIAN HIGH SOCIETY ALL AGOG OVER DUBOIS WAY

Assyrian high society in the City of DuBois is all agog today over a suit for slander begun in the Clearfield County Courts by Mrs. Adel Anter, of Cleveland, Ohio, against Noral Bojald, in which the damages are set at the tidy sum of $10,000.

The statement filed in Prothonotary Ralston's office by Attorney James A. Gleason, who represents the plaintiff recites that the fair plaintiff on the occasion of a recent visit to the home of her mother, Mrs. Lwa Maloof in DuBois was verbally assailed by the defendant, who by certain false and slanderous statements "did contrive and maliciously intend to deprive the plaintiff of her good name, fame and esteem."

The slanderous statements were made on July 27, 1922 and the case will be tried at September term of Court.

POISONED PIES KILL SIX IN NEW YORK RESTAURANT; 100 ILL; BAKER IS HELD

New York, N. Y., Aug. 1.—With the sixth death reported today from the eating of huckleberry pie in the restaurant of the Shelbourne Restaurant and Baking Company of 1127 Broadway, Charles Abramson, aged 30, a baker, discharged from the restaurant Saturday, was arrested on suspicion of homicide, and later held as a material witness.

The arrest was made as the result of an investigation made by District Attorney Banton, which definitely established that the pie contained arsenic.

Forty are still seriously ill from the poison pie and are at hospitals, to which they were rushed by all available ambulances in Manhattan yesterday.

Two Girls Among Dead
The dead include four men and two women. More than 100 persons ate the fatal pastry.

The discovery that arsenic was in the pie was reported today to the District Attorney by Samuel Drexler, the proprietor. He became ill from tasting the pies to assure patrons they "didn't know what they were talking about" when they complained that something was wrong.

His own illness and the repeated visits of clanging ambulances to the neighborhood caused him to have the

The district attorney was told that Abramson made up pie dough before he left the establishment Saturday. His successor mixed more dough and the pies were made from both batches.

Jacob Pfeffer died last night. The others died today. The speed with which the poison acted was illustrated in Pfeffer's case. He became ill soon as he left the restaurant. He telephoned for his daughter to come for him in an automobile. He died soon after reaching home.

Investigations have been started by both the district attorney and the department of health.

SENATOR CROW, OF UNIONTOWN, DIES AT CHALK HILL

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 2.—United States Senator William E. Crow died at his summer home, Chalk Hill, today after a long illness. Death came shortly before noon. Senator Crow had been ill since December with pernicious anaemia and after several months treatment in a Pittsburgh hospital he was brought to Chalk Hill in the hope that the mountain air would cure him. Crow was appointed to the United States Senate in September last, following the death of Senator Knox.

At the bedside were the immediate members of the Senator's family and Public Service Commissioner Ray Shelby, his law partner. For several hours Senator Crow was unconscious and he passed away peacefully.

Fayette's Biggest Farmer

William E. Crow was born March 10th, 1870. His parents were Joe Crow and Elizabeth McCombs. He rose from a farmer boy to Senator with the assistance of teaching, journalism, law and politics as stepping stones.

When he was appointed Senator, Crow's first utterance was that "life's ambition was reached. Crow entered politics in 1895 when he was chosen Chairman of the Republican County Committee. He was later elected to the State Senate and became President of the Senate in 1907 to continue as President of that body until his appointment as United States Senator. In 1909 he was chosen as Chairman of the Republican State Committee. He was known as Fayette County's biggest farmer owning thousands of acres of land. He also was interested in several coal mining operations.

Senator Crow's death marks the passing away of three United States Senators from Fayette County.

ALTOONA BASEBALL TEAM WILL PLAY HERE TOMORROW

The Altoona P. R. R. base ball team will meet the local American Legion ball team at the Driving Park grounds Thursday afternoon. This will likely be the last game of the season, as the fans do not seem to appreciate the efforts the Legion boys are making to give Clearfield some good baseball.

None of the games have been a paying investment and Manager Bell hopes crowd enough will turn out to at least pay the guarantee.

The local team has been greatly strengthened and a real classy game of ball is looked for.

DOCTOR DIES WRITING THOUGHTS OF SUICIDE FEELINGS ON TYPEWRITER

Milwaukee, Aug. 1.—Albert J. Herschman, doctor, scholar, linguist, philosopher, a confessed atheist and disbeliever in the hereafter, who declared Jesus Christ was the greatest man the world ever saw, put out his own life last night as he sat quietly in his office pounding the keys of his typewriter and smoking an expensive Havana cigar.

Dr. Herschman was formerly Austrian consular agent here and widely known, particularly in the slum districts, where his work as a physician mostly gratuitous broke his health and forced him to retire.

Filled with the idea that a man of his intellectual attainments, should die calmly and in a dignified manner, Dr. Herschman composed himself for the end, lighted his cigar, took twelve and a half grains of morphine and proceeded to click off his last thoughts on his typewriter.

Thoughts Timed by Paragraphs

His thoughts were timed by paragraphs, intervals showing his meditation lasted over a period of 3 hours. He was under no mental suspense, he indicated, the drug merely blurring his thoughts and giving him a sense of supreme quietitude. His only fear was he should be found before the opiate extinguished his life. He was going into the dark, he believed, for he had often remarked to his friends:

CLEARFIELD COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY, ORGANIZED RECENTLY, TO TAKE OVER FIGHT AGAINST PLAGUE

Superintendent Trostle Heads New Body Which Will Further Work So Well Taken Care Of By Branch Of The Woman's Club Heretofore

A WORK OF BENEFIT TO EVERYBODY

Tuberculosis is preventable. Tuberculosis is not incurable as many suppose.

Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons, attacking the strong as well as the weak.

It is a public problem that must be met by the public. The death rate has been materially reduced in Clearfield County through the use of funds acquired by the sale of the so-called Anti-Tuberculosis Seals at Christmas time and the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis Committee of the Woman's Club of Clearfield and the organization that efficient and hard working committee built up throughout the county.

However, it is not the function of the Women's Club to carry on this work indefinitely, and it never was the purpose that they should do so, they undertaking the task only because of the absence of any other agency. The time has come when it is a burden to that organization, and while they were willing to go on with it, it would not be fair to expect it of them. Every man, woman and child in the county, all of whom are enjoying the protection and health that comes to them by the work of the committee, should have a share in the work. In order that an agency whose sole purpose will be the eradication of this disease could take over the work of county wide meeting of men and women from every district in the county, except DuBois, was called, and held here last Wednesday at the Jordan Hotel.

There was a fine attendance, evidencing the interest of the people in this problem and a permanent organization was formed. It will be known as the Clearfield County Tuberculosis Society. The president will be Mr. W. P. Trostle, County Superintendent of Schools, who in his annual visitation to the public schools, will be in a position to carry the message of health for all to at least twenty thousand children each year. The Vice President will be Dr. J. Paul Frantz who has had charge of the anti-tuberculosis clinic here and is in touch with conditions. A competent executive committee was named, as reference to the minutes below will show, which will be headed by Mrs. Richard Gilbert of Clearfield, whose work in the interest of public health, civic affairs and general community welfare is too well shown to need any other reference to our hands.

The Progress asks the hearty cooperation of every citizen of the county to this most laudable work. The officers have a task before them. Let none of us withhold our assistance in any way.

—The Minutes—

July 26th, 1922. A general meeting held at Jordan's Hotel, Clearfield, Pa. for the purpose of affecting a Clearfield County Tuberculosis Society. A luncheon was served, following which the meeting convened with Dr. J. Paul Frantz, presiding. Miss Stella E. Ainstead was asked to act as secretary.

Dr. Frantz was asked to explain briefly the purpose of the meeting and introduced Mr. Arthur M. Dewees, Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society. Mr. Dewees explained the organization of the National Tuberculosis Association the State Tuberculosis Society and their affiliated organizations. The Pennsylvania Society was organized thirty years ago and is the oldest Tuberculosis Organization in the United States not excepting the national. Mr. Dewees spoke in a general way of the scope and value of the educational health work and emphasized

ACCIDENT COSTS MR. MURTA FLOOD LEG BELOW KNEE

Murta Flood, one of Girard township's best known residents, had one of his legs amputated below the knee at the Clearfield Hospital this morning. Two weeks ago Mr. Flood was tearing down a scaffolding at the Miller store at Surveyor Run when a part of the scaffold gave way and he was thrown to the ground a distance of about seven feet. A falling plank struck him on the ankle badly crushing the leg and ankle bones, causing compound fracture.

Mr. Flood was brought to the Clearfield Hospital where every effort was made to save the injured leg, but it was unavailing and amputation had to be made.

The patient rallied following the operation and his condition is reported as being highly satisfactory.

Quartet Chosen In Contest By Czar

The Russian Cathedral Quartet, which will appear at the Chautauqua, is recognized as one of the finest in both Europe and America. They are musicians of high standing who have sung from early boyhood in the famous Cathedrals of Russia under the personal patronage of the former Czar.

These four singers were selected by Czar Nicholas to come to America to interpret Russian folk songs and church music. They were also selected to sing at the Russian Cathedral in New York where a quartet was needed which should embrace the highest and lowest voices, conditions made necessary by the fact that the Cathedral has no organ, and accordingly required long range voices to give substance and variety to its music.

In addition to the local Russian population the quartet has been known only to music lovers who made pilgrimages to the Russian Cathedral to hear them, as they were permitted by the Russian Government to give but one concert a year in this country, but now that the reign of the Czar is ended the public may hear them.

Some time ago they sang in Washington, D. C., and received the high compliment of being personally invited by the President to visit the White House.

Their programs are made up entirely of Russian folk songs and church music, which is of a character that has for years challenged the admiration of the musical world.

GIVES LIFE SAVING OTHERS

W. C. Gentry Escaped Injury in World War, Once Rescued Texas Flood Victims.

After serving with the colors in the infantry field artillery, motor transport corps and the navy, W. C. Gentry returned from the World War to his home at Fort Worth, Tex., without having been injured during the flood at Fort Worth in April, 1922 the American Legion called upon its members to do rescue work. Young Gentry was one of the first to present himself at the Legion office.

During the first few hours he was in the flood district Gentry rescued six persons. While swimming toward the levee after carrying a woman to safety he became entangled in a barbed wire fence which had come to the surface of the water. He called to a companion for help but the companion was too nearly exhausted to save him. The surging waters from which he had saved others soon engulfed him.

Mayor T. R. Cockrell of Fort Worth and his fellow citizens to erect a fitting memorial to the young man who had unselfishly given his life for his fellow men.

WHEN ONLY FOUR HOURS OLD

Miss Rosalie Carol Larson of Worthington, Minn., Probably Youngest Auxiliary Member

Fortunately there are no age requirements for membership in the American Legion Auxiliary. Number of good mothers were among the charter members of the organization in Minnesota. On the other hand, there are several young women who may say that they have been engaged to the Auxiliary all their lives. Little Rosalie Carol Larson of Worthington, Minn., was admitted to membership when she was exactly four hours old. No she didn't apply for the honor. It was just conferred upon her.

Rosalie's father, Warner Larson, served with the Twenty-ninth Division and her mother received her diploma as a graduate nurse after volunteering for service with the American Red Cross.

THE FLOWERS OF THE LEGION
American Daisy and French Poppy
Official Posies of Both Branches
of the Organization.

There has been some confusion in the minds of Americans in general as to the status of the daisy and the poppy in connection with the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

The daisy is the Legion's official flower. The poppy is the Auxiliary's memorial flower. The misunderstanding arose in the first place because in its early days the Legion did adopt the poppy of France as its flower. But at its Kansas City convention the American Legion adopted the daisy as its official flower on the grounds that the daisy is an American flower and the poppy of Flanders is available for use only in artificial form.

The Legion Auxiliary has taken advantage of the fact that the poppy is not available as a real flower to buy artificial flowers made by disabled soldiers in hospitals. The Massachusetts Legion and Auxiliary netted something over $10,000 from the sale of artificial poppies last winter. This money was used to better the conditions of sick and needy veterans of the World War.

The Legion is making every effort to interest the children of America in the cultivation of flowers by appealing to their patriotism and to their natural affection for such a flower as the American Legion's American Daisy.

Carrying On With the American Legion

Former service men in Pennsylvania received $10,000 in claims from the government in one month through the efforts of the Pennsylvania American Legion.

A giant new bridge will span the historic Charles River at Boston, Mass., serving as a memorial to the Massachusetts dead who lost their lives in the World War.

Austrian heroes of the World War were honored on Austria day when religious services, soldiers' reunions and public meetings were held throughout the commonwealth.

A freak pretending to be half baboon and half woman, giving America as her home and declaring that there are no more like her in this country, attracted considerable attention in a (costume) (Turkey) street carnival until American Legion members had the act suppressed.

OBSERVATIONS

All play and no work mines no coal.

Perhaps a broader view will be taken of the bloomer skirt.

If you miss your train these days you have a good alibi.

"Civilization is on trial," says a speaker. Then it must be that they refused to accept its plea of pithy.

The originator of the term "berry" for the dollar just possibly got the suggestion from the price of a quart of berries.

WHAT'S THE TRUTH ABOUT PROHIBITION?

Those who are most agitated and most exclamatory about the "failure" of prohibition have no time to see the further fact that in the time since it has been declared in operation prohibition has had a most unfavorable period of testing. Un-usual crime conditions that followed the war and a lax enforcement of law, matched only by a general disregard for law, have had no proper relation with prohibition; yet they have been laid at the door of prohibition. At times there has been grossly inadequate machinery for enforcement of the prohibition law; and this has been taken as the basis for frequent declarations that the law cannot be enforced.

To those willing to distinguish the truth from gesture and bald assertion, the outlook for prohibition is bright. The common sense of the mass of the people is not likely to permit of any confusion on the issue. It will take time to make prohibition a complete success; time for a change in habits; time for law enforcement; time for a wider respect for law and an increased willingness to admit the benefits that the absence of liquor involves.—Kansas City Star.

LOYALTY RECOGNIZED

The Altoona Tribune has been interested in recent gossip concerning the question of seniority as it affects old employees of the Pennsylvania system and new ones who have assisted in preventing any crisis in railroad matters during recent weeks. It has felt that this is a question for the corporation and its employees and that impression is borne out by the following statement which was made public yesterday:

"To the employees of the Pennsylvania system, the old men who have remained loyal, and to the new men who have entered our service, and who jointly have enabled the railroad and its officers to perform its public duties in a full and efficient manner. I give you my personal assurance that my obligation to you under our agreement will be fully carried out.

"These agreements, fully protect the old and new men in their seniority, and the terms of the agreement cannot be changed except by mutual consent.

W. W. ATTERBURY,
Vice President in Charge of Operation

No doubt some of the men who went out for the purpose of crippling the Pennsylvania railroad company did so reluctantly and with heavy hearts. They simply didn't have the stamina to stand out against the persuasions of those who tempted them to their undoing or they failed to possess the courage necessary for them to stand the onslaughts poured upon the heads of the devoted men who remained loyal to their families, their work, and their employer. At the same time they

It is not in accordance with the principles of justice to expect a corporation like the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to fail in its promise to the employees who remained at their post in spite of every effort to persuade them to join the strikers. Neither a corporation nor an individual would knowingly reward treason and punish fidelity. The organization of a person who would do a trick of that sort would soon be without employees. Faithful workers who saw themselves set to one side at the behest of an organization would encourage treason to the public welfare would feel outraged and betrayed. And in the event of another crisis they would have no inducement to remain loyal to the employer or the public welfare.

The statement by General Atterbury is brief but entirely to the point. So far as the Pennsylvania Railroad company is concerned, there will be no faltering in the purpose to stand by the rights of faithful employees. This attitude is the only one open to an honest and grateful employer. To discipline the faithless ones and reward those who resort to every expedient to plunge the corporation and the public whom it serves so splendidly into endless confusion would be an act of supreme folly. It would likewise leave a very bad taste in the mouths of all lovers of fair play. It is, naturally enough, absolutely unthinkable, and that is General Atterbury's attitude as well as of the organization for which he speaks.—Altoona Tribune.

POLAND SEEKS LEGION PLAN

Government Asks American Body for Details in Matter of Employment for War Victims.

One of the highest emplacements ever given to the peacetime efforts of an organization was paid the American Legion when the Polish government asked that the Legion explain its plan used in the successful campaign for unemployed former service men in the United States in order that just such a system might be set for doing away with unemployment in Poland.

The Legion furnished a detailed outline of the scheme used in this country, and has received a letter of thanks from T. Hojnik, commercial department manager of the consulate general.

More than 100,000 ex-soldiers were given at least temporary employment during the first week of the Legion's drive and it is estimated that now more than 500,000 men are in permanent positions, largely through the efforts of the American Legion.

Ex-Tommies Cheer the Legion. Ex-Tommies who attended the first annual conference of the British Legion in London recently, rose en masse and cheered H. Nelson Jackson, national vice commander of the American Legion, when he read the greetings of Commander Harford MacNider and the entire American Legion to these "buddies" in the mother country. The message of good will and comradeship was received for the British Legion by Field Marshal Earl Haig.

Many "Bummed" to Convention. Because of the financial depression and lack of government compensation, many penniless disabled veterans of the World War walked and rode in box cars to San Francisco to attend the second annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, according to Raymond Creelman and Robert M. Smyth, members of the national staff.

"Dedicated to the Memory of Frederic W. Mr. Galbraith was killed in an automobile accident near Indianapolis, while in active service of the Legion. The rock and tablet were recently dedicated at a special service held by the headquarters staff and attended by National Commander Harford MacNider and Mrs. Lowell P. Look for the Atlantic tank in front of good garages and oil stations.

Two "medium" oils of exactly the same shade, density or flow may develop vastly different characters under the operating conditions of the motor—depending on what they contain and how they are refined.

Ask definitely for ATLANTIC MEDIUM and you'll get a motor oil that holds its body as permanently as it is scientifically possible to make it—a balanced lubricant that contains only the finest heat-resisting hydrocarbons the crude oil affords.

Atlantic Medium resists the thinning influence of the motor's terrific heat—which is far greater than the warmest summer day's temperature. It flows freely to the closest fitting bearing surfaces yet effectually seals the pistons.

Fifty-five years of refining experience and twenty-five years of special study of automotive lubrication assure in Atlantic Medium a correctness and degree of refinement that mean dependable performance at all times.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Now that the coal strike is just entering its fourth month it might not be out of place to set before our readers the loss in wages to the miners for the first three months of the struggle, as calculated by the State Bureau of Labor and Industry when this Bureau was "taking account of stock" for the first six months of 1922, entering upon the month just closed which should add its pro rata figures to the enormous total given herewith:—

The expiration on April 1, 1922, of the agreement entered into in 1920 by the mine operators and the United Mine Workers of America and the failure of the representatives of the operators and of the miners to reach a satisfactory working agreement has caused the present suspension of work by the anthracite and bituminous coal miners of the United States.

In Pennsylvania the loss in time and money as a result of this suspension of work is as follows:

There are 322,286 men involved with an approximate loss of $113,789,115.00 in wages for April, May and June. There were 76½ working days during April, May and June and with the total loss being $113,789,115.00, it means that the daily loss in wages has been $1,014,030.00. According to figures received from the State Highway Department the cost of one mile of durable concrete highway is $45,000.00. At this rate the wages lost in the last three months in this suspension of work was sufficient to build 2,528 miles of good road.

The days lost are 22,757,823, that is, counting 365 days to the year, it would take one man 62,250 years to make up the time lost since the beginning of the suspension in April up to the end of June, or 1,000 men 62½ years to make up this same period of time.

In the anthracite region, 143,520 men lost approximately $59,590,800.00 in wages, and 10, 118,160 days. The heaviest losses in the hard coal section are in Luzerne County where $19,332,815.00 were lost and in Lackawanna County where $12,577,200.00 were lost.

In the bituminous region approximately $63,198,315.00 were lost and 12,639,663 days were lost. Fayette County is the heaviest loser with $16,971,817.00 for the three months.

Clearfield County miners lost $4,776,072 of this amount during April, May and June, and $1,500,000 more for July.

Workmen's compensation, totaling $5,782,658, was incurred during the first six months of 1922 on accidents in Pennsylvania, it is shown in the six months' report of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. A marked decrease is shown in the number of fatalities since March due to suspension of coal operations. However, an increase in mine accidents has brought the fatalities to 140 for June compared with 104 for April. There were 66,257 accident reports received by the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. Of this number 855 were received by the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. Of this number 855 were fatal, 68 permanent disability, and 65,334 ordinary disability. During the first six months of this year there have been 76 leg losses, 55 arm losses, 148 hand losses, 97 foot losses and 305 eye losses.

For each eye lost through industrial accident $1,443 was awarded in compensation during the six months period. A total of $140,365 was awarded for eye accidents. This amount corresponds to the amount awarded for June fatalities. In other words 305 eye losses cost as much in compensation as 133 lives. The award for eye losses was twice as great as the award for any other permanent injury.

UNIFORM LAWS THE AIM OF EMINENT MEN MEETING TODAY

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent) San Francisco, Aug. 2. (United Press)—With definite proposals for uniform state laws on incorporation, the status and protection of illegitimate children, aviation, compulsory attendance of non-resident witnesses in civil and criminal cases, and extradition, the thirty-second annual national conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws opened here today. It will remain in session a week.

Since its organization the Commissioners have formulated and submitted to the state, 26 uniform acts dealing with a great variety of subjects, chiefly commercial. These acts have been adopted by from four to twenty-eight states.

Today's meeting will be devoted to the details of organization, and the reports of committees. The Commissioner will be welcomed by Governor William D. Stephens. Hon. Henry Stockbridge, of Baltimore, Md., president of the Commissioners, will be in charge of the sessions, which will be strictly business, no social program having been arranged.

During the sessions the Commissioners will consider for submission to the states the ninth tentative draft of the Uniform Incorporation Act, the third tentative draft of the Uniform Declaratory Act and the second tentative drafts of uniform acts on the Status and Protection of Illegitimate Children, Mortgages, Aviation, Fiduciaries, and the first tentative drafts of uniform acts on Arbitration, Joint Parental Guardianship of Children, Securing the Compulsory Attendance of Non-Resident Witnesses in Civil and Criminal Cases, and for the Extradition of Persons Charged with Crime.

The latter act will be introduced by Bradner W. Lee and Gurney R. Newlin of Angeles, California's unofficial representatives. The state has no official members of the Conference.

The Conference is an official body, charged with the formulation of uniform laws for adoption by the states. It was organized 33 years ago at the suggestion of the American Bar Association, for the purpose of meeting difficulties arising out of the wide variance between the laws of several states particularly relating to business matters. The Commissioners are appointed by legislative or executive authority.

The officers are: President, Henry Stockbridge, Baltimore, Md.; Vice-President, John R. Hardin, Newark, N. J.; Treasurer, W. O. Hart, New Orleans, La.; Secretary, John B. Sanborn, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; Executive Committee, Nathan William McChesney, chairman, Chicago; Eugene E. Massie, Richmond, Va.; George S. Young, Montpelier, Vermont; J. Hansell Merrill, Thomasville, Ga.; George E. Boers, New Haven, Conn.; and ex-officio, former President W. H. Staake, Philadelphia and A. T. Stovall, Okolona, Mass., chairman and scope and program.

THE PLAN

Briefly, we have arranged to form a Club for thrifty piano buyers. We will supply the members with one of these famous Pianos, Player-Pianos or Baby Grand Pianos from our regular stocks. We will allow each member three years to complete their payments and we will protect each member in case of sickness or non-employment. We will assume all risk in case of fire; we will fully guarantee every instrument ten years. We will allow you six months to exchange the instrument if you think you would prefer something else. Surely no better opportunity could ever be secured for an intelligent purchase of a piano or a player-piano.

LIMITED MEMBERSHIP

Naturally, because of the unusual advantages offered, we must limit the number of instruments to be sold under this Plan. No matter what your taste may be, this Club can supply your wants. Only Members will be allowed the advantages of these special prices and conditions. As soon as the allotted instruments are sold, the Club will close. This is an opportunity that thrifty buyers will gratefully remember.

THE PURPOSE

The purpose of this Club is to apply common sense—thrift and economy—to piano buying. Music is a necessity. It is as necessary for happiness as food, shelter and raiment. Every general in the World War knew this to be a fact. It was the singing soldiers who won the battles. It is the musical families who win life's battles.

An intelligent purchase of a musical instrument is a thrifty thing.

Music encourages thrift. The object of thrift is happiness, and where there is music there is happiness. Music stimulates family morale; it makes the home more attractive, there is less temptation to seek amusement and entertainment elsewhere. Thrifty, intelligent families have music in their homes. This opportunity is for thrifty families.

the function of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal, both as a means of education and a source of revenue.

Mrs. Richard Gilbert gave an outline of the work done the past year under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis Committee of the Women's Club. Material relief has been given, literature and printed matter has been distributed. Modern health crusade has been promoted to a certain extent. Transportation and outfits have been provided for tubercular patients going to sanatoria and to and from the dispensary, maintaining the dispensary and co-operated with other organizations in providing milk for three hundred or more children in the public or parochial schools.

Mrs. Charles Kurtz, president of the Women's Club gave a brief resume of the work in connection with the Women's Club from the time of its inception seven years ago, up until the present time. There is now a feeling that the work has grown to such an extent that it should be turned over to some organization, especially formed for the promotion of general health work throughout the county. Mrs. Kurtz assured us of the active interest and continued support of the Women's Club.

Dr. Quigley emphasized the value of milk lunch in the schools and the work with undernourished children, and pointed out that in addition to the physical improvement in the children themselves, there was a decided interest awakened in the community in this form of health work.

Dr. Frantz then appointed a nominating committee with instructions as to offices to be filled. The committee was composed of Mr. G. A. Stewart, Chairman, Mrs. Philip B. Reed, and Mr. J. A. Breth. This committee retired to another room to make their recommendations.

Mr. A. K. Wright added a few remarks relative to the work done here and told of a family which had inaugurated a nutrition class in their own home as an outgrowth of the milk lunch in school.

Miss Robinson, Field Secretary of The Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, spoke of some of her experiences with her work in Clearfield County within the last few weeks while she has been here in connection with the preliminary arrangements for the organization meeting. It was made clear that while the organization being formed today is to function as a County organization, there is one section of the county which prefers to work separately, at least for another year. The DuBois Committee has made all their plans for putting on a Christmas Seal Campaign and a Programme for 1923 before Miss Robinson approached them on the subject of being a part of the County organization. Miss Robinson wished to make this clear in order that any question which might arise later could be explained satisfactorily and also suggested that it might be an inspiration to this county organization to become so effective that the DuBois Committee would consider it an honor and a privilege to become a part of it later. She also took this opportunity to thank the people of Clearfield for their courtesy and cooperation extended to her during her work here.

Mr. Thomas L. Wall, of Grampian, one of the County teachers, spoke of the crying need for health work in the rural schools, and suggested holding a series of health meetings in the rural communities, using the public schools as a center. He also expressed a wish that some arrangement might be made whereby talks could be given by some qualified person in the various schools throughout the county.

Rev. Father M. A. Ryan spoke briefly in praise of the work done in the parochial schools last term and expressed the deepest sympathy and interest in the work of this new organization. He pledged the aid of the St. Vincent de Paul Society when material relief is needed and assured us of their active co-operation in any constructive programme that may be outlined.

Mr. S. C. Reed, who represented the Grange spoke in approval of the extension of the health work throughout the county and volunteered assistance wherever possible. This was followed by a general discussion and questions and it was brought out by Mr. Dewees that it was a bigger thing and directly in keeping with the policy of the State and National organizations to confine the program of work to a strictly educational basis. While material is necessary it is not the function of a health organization to provide such relief except in the most isolated cases. The function of a health organization is to keep well people well and to eliminate disease. This can best be done by means of health education.

The nominating committee returned and presented their recommendations as follows:

President—W. P. Trestle, County Superintendent.

Vice President—Dr. J. Paul Frantz, Secretary—Miss Stella B. Ainstead, Treasurer—Jas. Mitchell, Sr.

Executive Committee:—

Mrs. Richard Gilbert, chairman.

Mr. A. K. Wright.

Rev. A. M. Ryan.

Mrs. Geo. Reed.

Mrs. Chas. T. Kurtz.

District Vice Presidents:—

Lawrence and Goshen Twp.—Mr. S. C. Reed, Clfd., R. D. 4.

Down River—Mr. Q. E. Beauseigneur, Leontes Mills.

Morris, Graham and Cooper Twp. Mrs. G. B. Kirk, Kylertown, Pa.

Bradford, Boggs Twp. and vicinity Mrs. G. B. Shively, Woodland, Pa.

Penn Twp. and Graham—Jacob Seurman, Grampian, Pa.

Burnside, Chest, Westover and Mahaffey—Mrs. J. F. Rowles, Mahaffey.

Osceola Territory—No selection.

Houtzdale Territory—No selection.

Ramey and Bigler Twp.—Miss Ethel Minds, Ramey, Pa.

Coalport and Ironva—No selection.

It was the intention of the nominating committee that the President, or the Vice President in the absence of the President, be present at the Executive Committee's meetings as an ex-officio member, and that the District Vice Presidents be subordinate to the Executive Committee rather than to the President.

to my life, which in fact is already ended. The morphine has put me in a condition of absolute mental painlessness. I am not attempting to review my past life, and am not trying to look into the future as I believe death is the end and there is no hereafter.

"My thoughts are with my beloved wife, whose love and devotion have rendered me infinitely happy for many years, and with my two grandchildren who unconsciously brought sunshine to me.

"But although I deeply regret the grief my voluntary parting from life for a time must bring on my loved ones, all health and late reverses make my step desirable.

"7:17 P. M.—If I did not know I have taken sufficient poison to warrant results, I could not notice it from my condition. Aside from fluttering heart action, contracted pupils and moderate drowsiness I feel no effects. Still I cannot make up my mind to swallow the poison, and have lit a cigar waiting further increase of drowsiness, and hope to be seen able to coax myself into the inevitable."

"7:12 P. M.—I am here yet hesitating to take the poison. My thoughts are blurred from the morphine and a sensation of supreme quietude reigns in me. If it were not for my beloved wife, who has just phoned, I would go on waiting, but I am afraid of too long a day, because lapsing into unconsciousness might result in being saved by medical assistance. Ten more minutes and then the end with a draught.

"Curiously Watching Effects"

"I am in no manner kept in suspense, just pleasantly and curiously watching developments. Quicker than my only wish is that I had an additional handkerchief so I could dispose of the surplus perspiration, it being close and my skin clammy from the morphine effects.

Dr. A. J. H."

It is at this point the doctor is believed to have taken the poison. In the last few years he has maintained a foreign exchange and sold steamship tickets, and it was in this office he was found by a watchman and taken to Emergency Hospital about 9:30 P. M. but died on the way.

trains for their headquarters and indicated they would go ahead operating their roads, as at present.

The decision not to yield on the question of seniority was made known to the White House by telegraph after the rail heads had listened to a twenty minute address from Secretary Hoover, who told them the administration held the seniority rights of minor importance in comparison with that of upholding the Railroad Labor Board decisions.

This action was taken in the face of a letter from the President to De Witt Cuyler, chairman of the executives, embodying the "terms of agreement" as I understood them, upon which the railway managers and craftsmen are to agree.

President Harding had closed his letter with these sentences:

"I need hardly say that I have reason to believe that these terms will be accepted by the workers. If there is good reason why the managers cannot accept, they will be obliged to even direct negotiations or assume full responsibility for the situation.

President A. H. Smith apparently stated the sentiment of the chiefs when in the midst of their discussion he threw upon the table a bundle of 400 telegrams from foremen and superintendents of the road, announcing they would have to resign if the seniority of the strikers was resumed.

Immediately others leaped to their feet and gave similar statement. Resignations would be wholesale if seniority rights were granted strikers.

"What we want the government to do is to let us alone; to let us settle this strike in our own way," declared Mr. Smith.

"Acceptance of a false promise will result in complete demoralization of American transportation and the system of honorable co-operation."

Back To President

Washington, Aug. 2.—President Harding has the rail problem back on his hands as a result of the refusal of the executives to accept the settlement plan, so far as the seniority system is concerned.

There was no indication as what, if any move, the government planned to make.

It was considered probable the President would consider carefully the text of the executives' reply and that expected from the labor leader, before reaching a decision.

Attorney Gives Pledge on Seniority

W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, outlined his attitude on the seniority fight by a statement he issued last evening. It is as follows:

Oil City, Pa., August 1, 1922. To the employees of the Pennsylvania System—The old men who have remained loyal and to the new men who have entered our service, and who jointly have enabled our railroad and its officers to perform its public duty in a full and efficient manner:

I give you my personal assurance that my obligation to you under our agreement will be fully carried out. These agreements fully protect the old and new men in their seniority and the terms of agreement cannot be changed except by mutual consent.

SPRAY URGED FOR LATE POTATOES TO SAVE FROM BLIGHT

State College, Pa., Aug. 2.—That late blight is again threatening to destroy the Pennsylvania potato crop this year, particularly in north tier and mountainous counties, was the warning issued here today by Professor E. L. Nixon, extension plant pathologist of the Pennsylvania State College. Spraying is the only thing that will save the state crop in the opinion of the Penn State specialist.

Where the potato fields are being sprayed regular there will be little damage done by the blight, but areas where hit and miss methods are employed or where spraying is entirely lacking, the potato yield will suffer, says Professor Nixon, who has just returned from a trip into northern counties.

The attack will be usually severe in these sections where the farmers have had heavy drouth to contend with earlier in the season. Unless rigid spraying is observed in such districts, the harvest is likely to be a crop of small size tubers, having little commercial value. The fact that a field has escaped the blight so far holds no assurance that there will be none later on, according to Mr. Nixon. The safest practice is to spray regularly and thoroughly, for the late blight, once it appears in a field can inflict heavy injury and often complete destruction in a few days.

With spraying being practiced on twice the acreage as that of last year Professor Nixon expects to see the value of Bordeaux mixture very clearly demonstrated this summer. On sprayed fields it is possible the yield will run as high as 100 bushels more per acre than the yield from unsprayed fields. Growers who avail themselves of the advice to begin spraying immediately may yet control the ravages of late blight in their fields and insure themselves of a yield well above the average.
